Rubric for BPA Judged Contest

The BPA judged event you have chosen is worth 100 points because the project takes a lot of effort. Although you are not required to win the contest to earn points, you are required to put forth the effort in an attempt to win the contest. If you win, that's all the better!

Many people are volunteering their time and energy to give you useful feedback on your projects. The least you can do to show your appreciation is to show the judges that you really care about the impression you'll make. Show them that you want to do a great job on your project.

All of the judged events have two components:

1. The first component is the written element of the contest. You must present the written component of the contest to the judge before you begin your presentation. I will also use the rubric for the contest you are competing in to grade your technical (written) score.

The written part of the project is worth a maximum of 50 points.

Your score: _____

2. The presentation element of the contest is what you do in front of the judge(s). I will take the judges' notes and award you points based upon their feedback. The maximum number of points for your presentation is also 50 points.

The presentation part of the project is worth a maximum of 50 points.

Your score: _____

Good luck! Create something that you can be proud of! With some effort, you can make it to State and National Competition and make memories that will last you a lifetime!
