

Information Concerning Cisco Semester Exams:

At the conclusion of each of the four semesters, you will take a semester exam.

You are given two opportunities to take the semester exams. You must take the Semester Exam a second time if you do not score at least 75% on the first exam. If you do not score at least 75% on the first attempt, print your individualized feedback, study, and then take the second exam. The second attempt score is recorded in the grade book even if the second score is lower than your first score.

Your Semester 1 Exam score will be your 11th grade Mid-Term Exam Score.

Your Semester 2 Exam score will be your 11th grade Final Exam Score.

Your Semester 3 Exam Score will be your 12th grade Mid-Term Exam Score.

If you choose not to do a work-experience project/internship, your Semester 4 Exam Score will be your 12th Grade Final Test Score.

Certification Exams:

If you pass your CCENT/ICND1 exam at any time during you junior year, you will automatically earn an "A" for any exam not already taken.

If you pass your CCNA/ICND2 exam at any time during your senior year, you will automatically earn an "A" for any exam not already taken.
